

Which herbs are we going to draw?

Here's some help if you are wondering which herbs you might need to hunt down for upcoming lessons. There will always be reference photos, so if you are buried under the snowdrifts at this time of year, you will still have herbs aplenty to draw.

Also, you are welcome to substitute different herbs for the ones I feature -- either because you prefer different ones, or because you happen to have different fresh herbs than I do! We're very flexible around here.

Lesson 2 will feature basil.

Lesson 3 will feature your choice of parsley or cilantro -- they are so very similar in appearance.

Lesson 4 will feature your choice of feathery herbs dill or fennel.

Lesson 5 will feature oregano.

Lesson 6 will return to our old friend, basil.

Likewise, Lesson 7 will revisit mint in a new way.

Lesson 8 will feature sage.

Lessons 9 and 10 will feature an herb medley made of our previous herbs.
